

It appears that you correctly used the Pythagorean Theorem to find  $x = \sqrt{39}$ , but you found the value of  $\tan X$ . Remember that the two acute angles in a right triangle will have different trigonometric ratios.