

Incorrect. You can set up a right triangle and give the side opposite angle  $A$  length 2 and the hypotenuse length 3. Then  $2^2 + a^2 = 3^2$ . Solve this equation to find the length of the adjacent side to angle  $A$ , then use the definitions of the trigonometric functions.