You may have correctly determined that the reference angle is $60°$ and found $\sec 60°$, but you made a mistake with the sign. Use the signs of x and y in the second quadrant to determine the sign of secant, remembering that $\sec \theta = \dfrac{1}{x}$. The correct answer is -2.