

Incorrect. To calculate the value of the trigonometric function, do the following:

- (1) Draw the angle in standard position and determine the reference angle.
- (2) Calculate the value of the trigonometric function for the reference angle.
- (3) Determine if the value of the function is positive or negative using the signs of x and y .