

Three relationships are described below:

- I. The cost of hiring a mover is based on the distance traveled and the total weight of the objects moved.
- II. The amount of time needed to paint a house decreases as the number of painters increases.
- III. The income of a worker who gets paid an hourly wage depends on the number of hours worked.

What type of variation describes each relationship?