

This is the maximum value of θ on the interval. The maximum value of the function is 1. To put this another way, the greatest output of the function, or value of $\sin \theta$, is 1. The question was asking for the inputs, or values of θ , that yield this output.