Incorrect. Points that are solutions to the inequality will have a y coordinate that is greater than the x coordinate. Check to make sure that you've included only coordinates where the y coordinate is greater than the x coordinate.