

The left and right halves of the graph of cosine are mirror images of each other over the  $y$ -axis. This is not true for the graph of sine.