

Incorrect. Points that are solutions to the inequality will have a y coordinate that is less than the x coordinate. Check to make sure that you've included only coordinates where the y coordinate is less than the x coordinate.