

Incorrect. Points that are solutions to the inequality will have an  $x$  coordinate that, when multiplied by 2, is less than 3 times the  $y$  coordinate. Plug in each point's coordinates into the  $x$  and  $y$  values in the inequality and check that the inequality is true.