The effect of adding $\frac{\pi}{2}$ to the input of the function is to shift the graph of $y = \cos\theta$ to the left by $\frac{\pi}{2}$ units. This will give you a repeating hill and valley pattern with a hill just to the left of the y-axis and a valley just to the right. This describes the graph shown.