

The effect of multiplying by  $-1$  is to replace all the  $y$ -values by their opposites. The points that were above the  $x$ -axis move below the  $x$ -axis, and the points that were below the  $x$ -axis move above the  $x$ -axis. So the graph is reflected over the  $x$ -axis.