This graph has the shape of a cosine function and has the correct amplitude and period. However, it does not match $y = -\frac{1}{3}\cos 3x$ because it does not take into account the effect of the negative sign. It should be reflected around the x-axis. The correct answer is the graph passing through $\left(0, -\frac{1}{3}\right)$.