

A graph represents a function of the form $y = a \sin bx$ or $y = a \cos bx$, where a and b are nonzero constants. The graph passes through the point $(0, 0)$. Which statement is true?