

The number line below represents the amount of dollars that someone has. Represent the following scenario on the number line:

Brian goes to the county fair with at least $20. If he's gone on a ride costing $3 and bought a candy apple for $5, use the number line to indicate how much money he could have left.