

Correct. The intersection of the two lines is at the point $(0, -5)$. This means that both equations are true when \square and \square .