If possible, draw in the number line below that is the best representation for the statement "the absolute value of x is a positive number".

If it is not possible to show this statement on the number line, leave the number line blank and click "submit."