Two trains leave stations 44 miles apart at the same time heading toward one another on parallel tracks. Train A is traveling 60 miles per hour, while Train B is going 50 miles per hour.

How long after they start do the two trains pass each other?

Express your answer in hours, using decimals where needed.