

If you move from $(-4, -3)$ to $(-1, -2)$, you are going up and to the right, so both the rise and the run are positive. This means that the slope is positive.