

The table has more information about the amount of jellybeans and gumdrops than is provided in this problem. The problem did not state the amount of each item. Without that information, it is impossible to solve.