Correct. Plugging in (0, 0) to (x, y) yields two true statements:

$(0) + (0) \leq 1$

$(0) \leq (0)$

All other points yield at least one false statement, so (0, 0) is the solution.