

This is incorrect. The variable is a symbol, but not a number -in this case, y . The coefficient is the number that occurs before the symbol. In this case, 5. $5y$ means that you have 5 of the variable y . In other words, you multiply the variable y by 5.