

Incorrect. First, combine like terms to get the radical on one side of the equation and the number on the other side. Next, raise both sides of the equation to the 5th power in order to get rid of the radical.