

The period of a pendulum is the time it takes the pendulum to complete one cycle through its motion. A pendulum that is L centimeters long will have a period of $T = \pi\sqrt{\frac{L}{245}}$ seconds. If a certain pendulum has a period of 1.5 seconds, what is the pendulum's length (in centimeters)?