Incorrect. You need to isolate the variable by performing the reverse of the operations shown to both sides of the equation. The correct answer is to add 5 to both sides, and then to divide both sides by 4.