

A health and beauty company sells a hair product for $20. Its production costs are $5 per product, and shipping costs are $0.75 per product. There is also a one-time fixed cost of $200 to develop the product.

Which of the following polynomials represents the total amount earned from the sale of x units of the product?