

Incorrect. Try factoring the numerators and denominators of the fractions first, and then look for values for  $b$  that will make the numerator or the denominator of the divisor equal to 0. To simplify, rewrite the division problem as multiplication by the reciprocal of the divisor.