Incorrect. Since the denominators are the same, the numerators can be added together. Then factor the numerator and denominator and look for any common factors.