Incorrect. Since these expressions have the same denominator, you can add the numerators together. Then simplify the expression by factoring the numerator and denominator and looking for any common factors.