The place value indicates the position of the digit in the number.