

Round each number in each expression to the nearest hundred, then match each expression on the left with its estimated sum or difference on the right. Some answer options on the right will not be used.