A scientist has 5,374 microbes growing in a dish. Fifteen minutes later, there are 3,224 more microbes in the same dish. Estimate the new number of microbes in the dish by rounding each number to the nearest hundred.