Incorrect. Check your calculations by trying a different method. You might try using grid paper to keep columns of numbers organized. Or you can break one number into two parts and multiply each part. The correct matches are shown in green.