Incorrect. Remember that the category of rational numbers includes all numbers that can be expressed as a ratio of two integers (that is, as a fraction). Also, whole numbers are always positive.