

Remember, for a graph to represent a function, every input (x-value) corresponds to exactly one output (y-value). It is possible for a given output to correspond to more than one input.