Correct. Applying the Fundamental Counting Principle, you find that there are 400 3-digit numbers with a 2, 4, 6, or 8 in the hundreds place out of 900 total 3-digit numbers, so the answer is $\frac{400}{900} = \frac{4}{9}$.