

Look at the following inequality:

"For all real numbers x , $\frac{3x^2}{x^2} > 2$ "

Which values for x can be used as a counterexample to show that the statement is not always true?