

Incorrect. The result of each flip doesn't remove any possible outcomes, so the events are independent. Therefore the probability of all 3 events occurring is the product of the probabilities of each event.