

0 is part of the range since it is the y -value corresponding to \square and \square .