

Incorrect. Remember that deductive reasoning uses logic, while inductive reasoning uses a series of observations. In which activity must you make a series of observations and then generalize from them?