

Correct. In this pattern, the shape flips vertically every turn and becomes a solid color, rotating black and then red. Then it returns to its original orientation and color scheme. The next figure will be the same as the second in the sequence: an all-black figure with the square at the top right.