

Incorrect. How is each term different from the one before it? Notice that each number is less than the one before it, so you need to subtract some amount related to the term number.