Correct. For Sasha to predict when the next full moon will occur, he could observe the moon's patterns, generalize what he is seeing, and then make a conjecture based on his data.