

Incorrect. Notice that this is a system of two linear equations, and that the equations have different slopes. If the lines are not parallel, how many places must they intersect?