

Which of the following applications is least likely to be modeled by a quadratic function?