Incorrect. Think about the two axes: the x-axis maps the time, and the y-axis maps the height. Just after the marble is launched, what does the graph look like? What about just before it lands?