

Use the rules of divisibility to match each number on the left to possible factors of that number on the right. Some answer options on the right will not be used.