

Do not multiply the whole number parts and the fractional parts separately. You must first change the mixed numbers into improper fractions, and then multiply.