

A prime number has exactly two factors, but 1 has only one factor.