

If you take 1 away from the first whole number to add it to the fraction, don't forget this in the final result.